

Referee Uniform Updates

Following the kit sponsorship agreement which Volleyball England has signed with Mizuno, the Referee Commission has decided to change the current referee uniform supplier from Errea to Mizuno.

The referee badge will also be updated to a newer and more modern design. In collaboration with the marketing and workforce teams at Volleyball England, the Referee Commission has chosen the below logo which will be embroidered on all new uniforms.

Discussions and negotiations around price and distribution are still taking place, but it is hoped that a discounted price will be available for all those who attend the Referee Conference in June. More information will follow on this.

Once this has been agreed, all Grade 2 referees and above will be expected to wear the new uniform from September 2016 and, as in previous years, a period of grace for a change-over has been agreed. All officials involved in National League matches should be wearing the new kit from September 2017.
