

WORK PLACEMENT PROJECT – SCHOOLS & YOUTH INSIGHT ASSISTANT

SCHOOLS & YOUTH INSIGHT ASSISTANT

BACKGROUND INFORMATION:

Volleyball England and their Schools and Youth Commission (chaired by London 2012 Team GB Olympian, Maria Bertelli) are reviewing their current Schools & Youth Strategy to tailor their volleyball offer. You could play a major part in shaping the future of volleyball in schools, by providing research and insight into the current, and potential offerings.

PLACEMENT DETAILS:

START DATE:	End of November 2015 (TBC)
LENGTH & DURATION:	Flexible hours – ongoing research work (finish date TBC)
PLACEMENT AREA:	Participation

ROLE DESCRIPTION:

Working with the Young People Manager and the Schools and Youth Commission, you will produce a piece of insight work to help with the ongoing Schools Review.

Roles and responsibilities could include:

- Researching other National Governing Body offers
- Researching programmes ran by external parties and networks
- Networking with members to gain insight into the current schools structure
- Communicate with members and gather feedback on potential changes
- Liaising with the Young People Manager and Commission members
- Creating a piece of work to help shape strategy

We are looking for somebody with strong research skills, who is able to work independently and show a good use of their initiative. The Schools & Youth Insight Assistant will be able to draft reports and produce work to a high written quality. Good communication skills are key to this role. An understanding of the current sporting and/or schools and youth landscape is beneficial, but not essential. We are looking for somebody who is willing to get stuck into a project and play their part in influencing change.

WORKING HOURS AND FURTHER DETAILS:

Working hours are flexible and are able to fit the individual needs of the Schools & Youth Insight Assistant. Research work should be starting before December 2015, so an early project start date is preferable.
